

Dear Sir Francis Drake,

I am writing to answer to your request of crew: I am a gunner and started training at an early age, therefore I have experience. I have had many jobs on small boats and four major jobs on large boats, back and forth between England and France.

I am good at aiming and explaining and I'm very quick at loading and firing the guns in case of attack.

I am very interested in a trip to Alexandria, and I have no fear, please accept my request.

Yours faithfully

Rodger Fauves
