

I'm A Famous Pop Star Lauren Crofts (9)

I'm a famous pop star
I like to sing along.
I'm a famous pop star
I like a jolly song.
I'm a famous pop star
I like to dance as well.
I'm a famous pop star
I like to ring the bell.
I'm a famous pop star
I like to sing along,
With a jolly song,
Dance as well,
Ring the bell.

Skippping Rhyme Charlotte Westaby (9)

I'm a famous shopkeeper
And I can count in tens
I'm a famous shopkeeper
And I can sell you pens
I'm a famous shopkeeper
And I can give you change
I'm a famous shopkeeper
And I like to rearrange
I'm a famous shopkeeper
And I can count in tens,
Sell you pens,
Give you change
And rearrange.

Elvis Oliver Josephs (10)

Elvis made a song
About a hound dog called Pong.
It was at the top so long,
He was great at that song.
And he died and it went wrong
And that's the end of that song!

One Little Fairy Leigh Dunning (11)

One little, pink fairy,
All on its own.
Flying around in an endless circle, Feeling ever so alone.
Looking for someone,
Someone to play.
Searching around,
Up until May.
When she finally gave up,
She felt ever so unwanted.
She kept going around,

Until she was wanted.

She stopped and looked,
Up so very high.
For what she saw,
Up in the sky.

I'm A Famous Footballer Joe Greer (8)

I'm a famous footballer
And I'm from Real Madrid.
I'm a famous footballer
And have a mate called Sid.
I'm a famous footballer
And I can smack 'em.
I'm a famous footballer
And my name's David Beckham.

The Fly Stacey French (9)

Fidgety, fidgety fly
Oh, it is a pest
It's not the best
Of all the animals passing by
With little wings
Like a propeller
It goes round and round until
Bang! with a newspaper.

My Famous Cooking Poem Sophie Partridge (9)

I'm a famous chef
And I can do a fry-up.
I'm a famous chef
And I can whisk in a cup.
I'm a famous chef
And I can cook fish and chips.
I'm a famous chef
And I can cook some dips.
I'm a famous chef
And I can do a fry-up,
Whisk in a cup,
Fish and chips
And cook some dips.

I'm a famous footballer
And I can do high kicks,
Tricks,
Score goals
And tackle loads.

I'm A Famous Writer Bethany Aris (7)

I'm a famous writer
Who can write all the poems.
I'm a famous writer
Who makes up all the rhymes.
I'm a famous writer
Who can tell all the stories.
I'm a famous writer
Who can tell you what the blurb is. I'm a famous writer
Who can write all the poems,
Make up the rhymes,
Tell all the stories
And tell you what the blurb is.

I'm A Famous Fisher Marco Storino (9)

I'm a famous fisher
Who can fish.
I'm a famous fisher
Who can order you a dish.
I'm a famous fisher
Who sits on a stall.
I'm a famous fisher
Who is very tall.
I'm a famous fisher
Who can fish,
Order you a dish,
Sits on a stall
And I'm very tall.

Seaside Jennie Hand (11)

As I walk up to the ice-cold water,
It chased me like it said, 'Caught her!'

Do I dare sit down for a shock?
When suddenly a stone would give me a knock.

As I made a fantastic castle,
Made out of sand, it was no hassle.

Standing still, the tide coming in, Feeling the water crawl up my skin.

As I leave this relaxing land,
I leave with ice cream in a sweaty hand.

The Haunted House Charlotte Simpson (11)

As the ghostly guests gather round,
The creepy phantoms make not a sound.

Shivers slide down your spine
As if someone is walking on your grave.

You try to make a cry
To see who comes to rescue you But all you see is a faded shadow Run along your wall.

The ghoulish ghost comes up to me.
As you can see how unpleasant ghosts can be.

I Love Bees Sianne Partridge (9)

Bees, bees, I love bees,
They sparkle in the trees.

The whistling wind
Blowing them here and there.
The buzzing makes your ears vibrate.
Buzz, buzz, through the air
Then they land in your hair.
