

The Lord of the Rings the Last Stand

“HELP! HELP ME! I’M GOING TO DIE!” screamed Frodo, stammering out of fear. I bet your wondering how Frodo appeared into this predicament. Well this is how it began. After Sauron’s death, Saruman sent an army of a 1000 strong to kill the fellowship. Then he would enslave all of Middle Earth. So the fellow ship was sent to retrieve THE GREAT HERB OF MIDDLE EARTH!!!!

After a few days of intense trekking the fellow ship arrived in at the dragon’s caves. The half waypoint. The dragon’s cave was home to Smorg Jr the dragons’ family. Smorg Jr was the worst dragon in Middle Earth!! He had once burnt down an entire village in one monstrous, terrible and fiery breath!

“This is too easy!” exclaimed Legolas, “I sense death!”

The atoms fear was so tense that you could smell and feel the fear. If you listened carefully you would hear the wimpish cry of dragons. You could see the crack shells of dragon eggs. “We must go round!” shouted Aragon taking charge, “If we go round we will live to fight another day!”

A few days later they came to Mordor the most perilous part of their journey. The floor was constantly tumbling away. Shelob the spider of Doom dwelled in this dreadful place. It could strike fear into any mortal’s heart.

“ It don’t like it here!” Frodo exclaimed fear stood out in his voice, Suddenly Shelob appeared!!

Standing with sword poised to strike the great beast. In a matter of seconds Shelob pounced. Just missing the sharp tormenting tip of Frodo’s blade! It landed in a deep, dark fissure. Suddenly she landed on a spike that went directly though her.

“Well done Frodo you scared her so much she killed her self!” exclaimed Aragon

Suddenly out of thin air a gang of Orcs appeared!

“Run Frodo! Retrieve the great herb of middle earth!” ordered Aragon. Frodo ran, ran and ran for all his life. He grabbed the herb and felt it’s power. All of a sudden the mountain collapsed!

“HELP! HELP ME! I’M GOING TO DIE!” Screamed Frodo stammering out of fear. Suddenly he was whisked away back home and was met by the fellow ship. Then all evil was destroyed!!
